The Great Controversy - Satan sends Pestilence

1. God can send pestilence. - Jeremiah 21:6
2. Satan can bring pestilence as well. – Job 2:7
3. Pestilence can effect the godly as well. – Job 2:1-7

The most emblematic example of Satan as a disease-provoking agent is probably found in the book of Job. As the story goes, a man was “blameless and upright; he feared God and shunned evil” (Job 1:1). But he was stricken with “painful sores from the soles of his feet to the crown of his head” (Job 2:7).

The Great Controversy - God sends Pestilence

- Numbers 12:1-2 - Miriam: Jealous, Envious & insubordinate.
- Numbers 12:10 - And, behold, Miriam became leprous, white as snow:
- Numbers 12:11 - Aaron pleads not to lay the Sin against her.
- Numbers 12:14-15 - Miriam shut out of camp for 7 days (Quarantine).

COVID19 and QUARANTINE

- Leviticus 13:50-51 – Priest shall look on the plague on the 7th day.
- Heavenly high priest is examining us every 7th day = Sabbath.
- Leviticus 13:54 – If not Spread, wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shall shut it up seven days more = Total 14 days.
- Leviticus 13:59 - This is the law to pronounce it clean or unclean.
- Leviticus 13:45 – Shall put a covering upon his upper lip.
- The world is following what God set up for plaques.

Man Sins > Sabbath God examines, washes and clothes > next Sabbath examines again > every subsequent 7th Day Sabbath – Nehemiah 13:22

Stand ready for God to carry us through all of the storms of life

I believe that very soon there is a storm coming upon us. Those of us who choose to be faithful to God will be hated and persecuted in a way we cannot even fathom. And yet our God is faithful! He will deliver us! "The Lord is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer; My God, my strength, in whom I will trust; My shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold" (Psalm 18:2).

But God's promises are sure! They are alive and eternal and they are meant for you and for me — they stand ready to carry us through all of the storms of life.

Stand ready for God to carry us through all of the storms of life

When you read about God as your shield in this verse, think about what He is shielding you from. No one can say whether God will deliver any one of us from physical harm or danger. But He has already delivered us from the condemnation of our own sins. With this reassurance in our minds, what do we have to be afraid of? Yes, we must go through the storm. But our souls will be safe in the care of our Maker, our Shield! "The Lord is my light and my salvation; Whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? Though an army may encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war may rise against me, in this I will be confident. For in the time of trouble He shall hide me in His pavilion; in the secret place of His tabernacle He shall hide me; He shall set me high upon a rock" (Psalm 27:1, 3, 5).

Joseph in Egypt – Ancient Biblical PAST

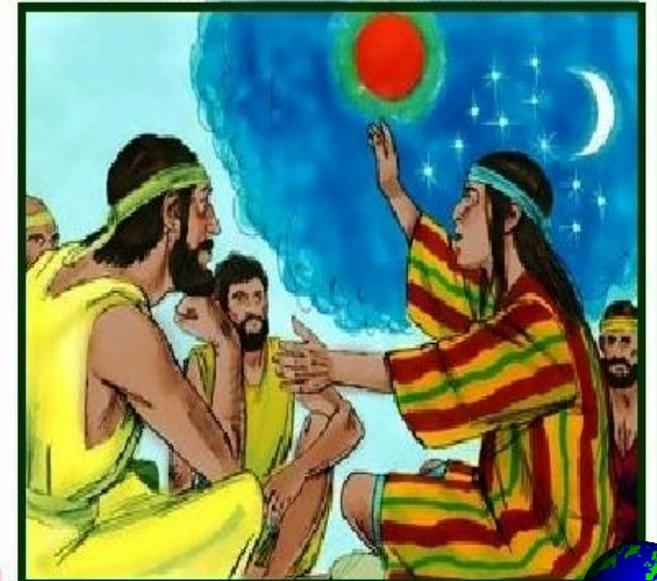

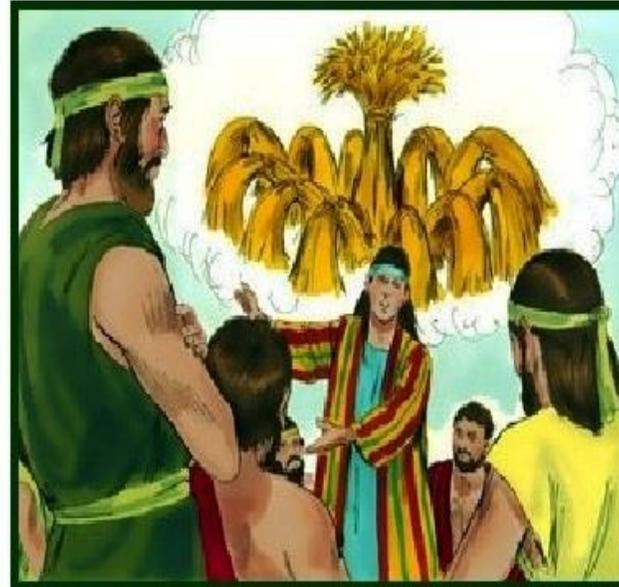

Joseph the Logistician: A Biblical Tale of Our Time

Possibly the most brilliant logistician of the biblical age, Joseph, can teach us a lot about the importance of what is happening today.

Joseph's exceptional revealing of dreams and planning abilities put him on a fast track to promotions. He ascended rapidly from the role of prisoner/superintendent in an Egyptian jail, to Pharaoh's Chief Logistics Officer with "Prince" in his title.

At the peak of his career, the man was second only to Pharaoh.

JOSEPH'S DREAMS - Genesis 37

<http://www.Yeshua.wordpress.com>

Joseph's rise and the full significance of his story today

After being sold by his brothers to a group of nomad Ishmaelites for “twenty [pieces] of silver” (Genesis 37:28), he was brought to Egypt, “and Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh, captain of the guard, an Egyptian, bought him of the hands of the Ishmaelites” (Genesis 39:1). He rose to be Potiphar’s chief of staff: “...he had made him overseer in his house and over all that he had...” (Genesis 39:5). Unfortunately, after rebuking the advancements of Potiphar’s wife “And she caught him by his garment saying, Lie with me: and he left his garment in her hand, and fled” (Genesis 39:12). Joseph was the subject of a wrongful sexual harassment accusation, and ended up in jail.

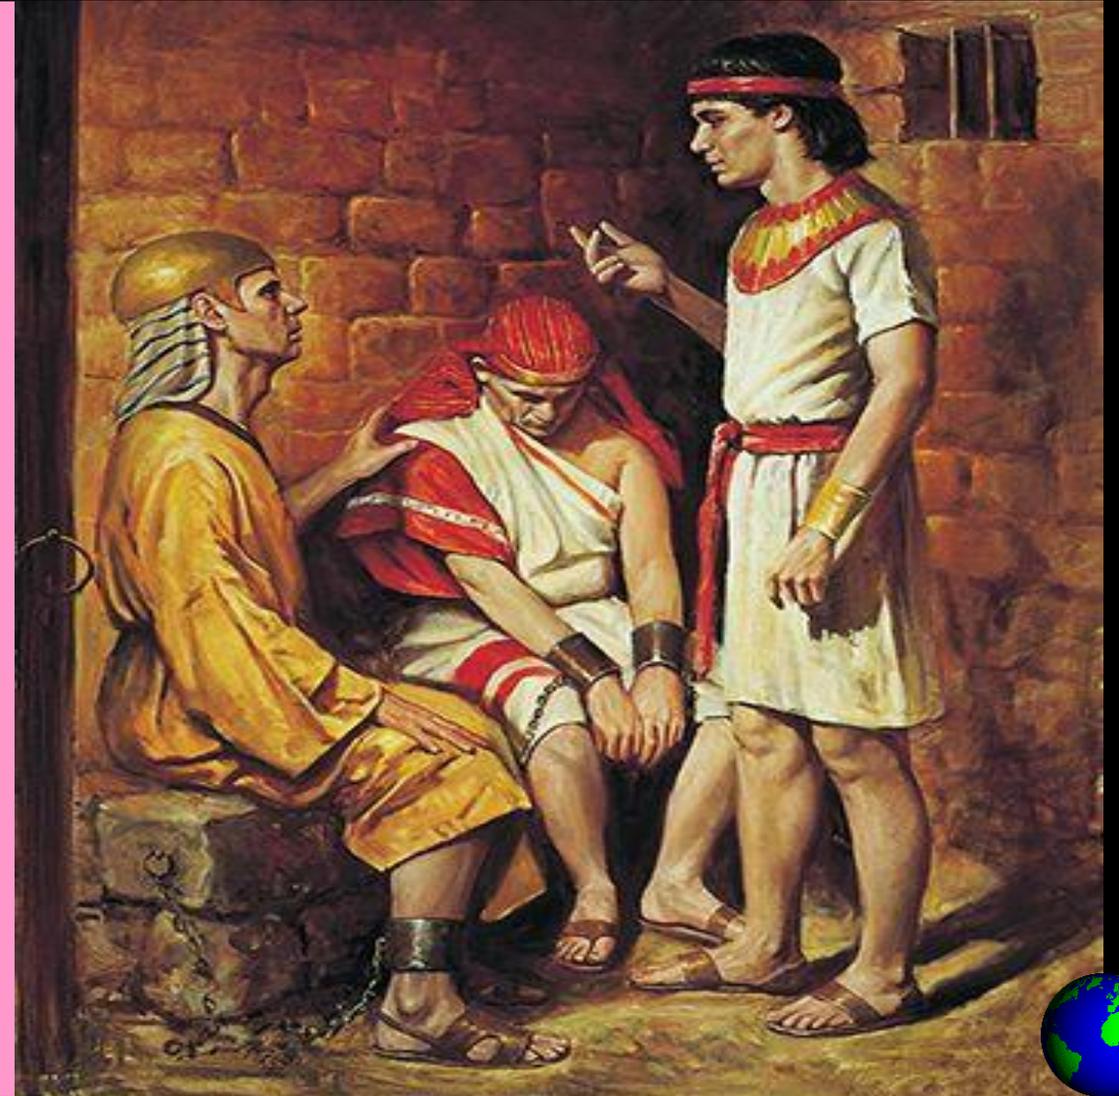

God was always with Joseph, even in prison

Even there, Joseph's leadership qualities shone through: "And the keeper of the prison committed to Joseph's hand all the prisoners" (Genesis 39:22).

What is less known, however, is that during his years in prison Joseph interpreting the dreams of Pharaoh's former Chief Butler and Chief Baker. Both interpretations were realized, cementing Joseph's reputation as a interpreter of dreams.

During these years, he also developed an understanding of the Egyptian business cycle. He knew that the nation's economy was based on a seven-year phase.

Joseph's big career break came when Pharaoh had two strange dreams

In the first Pharaoh dream, “there came up out of the river seven well favoured kine and fatfleshed; and they fed in a meadow. And, behold, seven other kine came up after them out of the river, ill favoured and leanfleshed; and stood by the other kine upon the brink of the river. And the ill favoured and leanfleshed kine did eat up the seven well favoured and fat kine” (Genesis 41:2-4).

The second strange dream

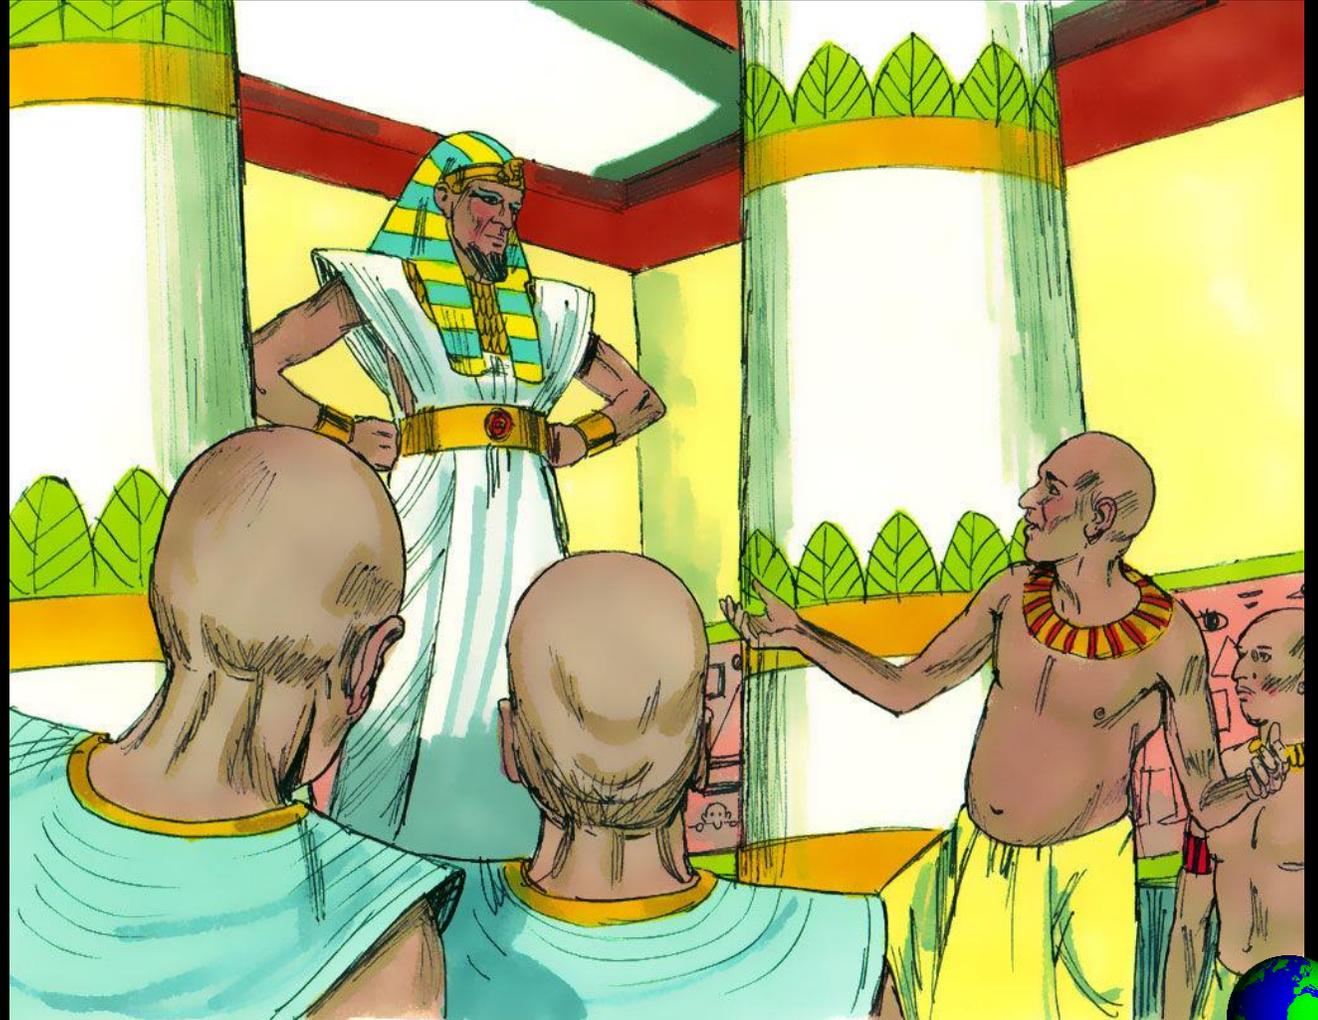

In the second dream, “seven ears of corn came up upon one stalk, rank and good. And, behold, seven thin ears and blasted with the east wind sprung up after them. And the seven thin ears devoured the seven rank and full ears” (Genesis 41:5-7).

Pharaoh was deeply troubled and lost his peace

Pharaoh was troubled by these visions, and decided to use a standard Delphi technique to interpret them. But this method failed to produce results:

“...he sent and called for all the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof: and Pharaoh told them his dream; but there was none that could interpret them unto Pharaoh” (Genesis 41:8).

Pharaoh is desperate and wants to find the meaning!

After this failure, Pharaoh decided to look for a supplier with a proven track record. His Chief Butler told Pharaoh about a prisoner named Joseph who successfully interpreted one of his dreams. “And it came to pass, as he interpreted to us” (Genesis 42:13). Now Pharaoh was intrigued.

Pharaoh calls for Joseph to be brought to interpret

Pharaoh summoned Joseph and outlined his dreams to the prisoner. Joseph said to Pharaoh that God is revealing the future to him:

“Behold, there come seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt: And there shall arise after them seven years of famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt; and the famine shall consume the land” (Genesis 40:29-30).

Joseph presents the solution to overcome the famine

But Joseph was not an academic forecaster for whom it would have been enough to deliver a papyrus in a conference of the Egyptian statistical society. He also offered a mitigation plan based on inventory theory. Utilizing a single period Newsvendor model, Joseph outlined his plan, including an organization framework: “Now therefore let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt..., and let him appoint officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seven plenteous years. And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, and let them keep food in the cities. And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine” (Genesis 41:33-36).

Thus, the basic tenant of economic order quantity came into being

Joseph's plan was based on locating warehouses and distribution centres in every Egyptian city. Over a 14-year year time span, he planned to balance production and consumption rates using a long-term S&OP process, so that the supply chain would perform continuously and demand would be satisfied without stock-outs. Pharaoh, who had probably listened to as many consultants as the next CEO, decided to let the one who through whom God revealed actually execute the proposed plan. He knew that the key to success was the commitment of the one in-charge, and immediately empowered Joseph: "And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, ... Thou shalt be over my house, and according unto thy word shall all my people be ruled: only in the throne will I be greater than thou" (Genesis 41:39-41).

Joseph now elevated to the 2nd in command

To show his faith in his new chief logistics officer, Pharaoh offered him a generous compensation package. He “took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain about his neck” (Genesis 41:42).

If Joseph failed in fulfilling his duties –
he would be executed

Naturally, Joseph had also an at-risk component as part of his package – the Pharaohs were known to execute underlings who failed them. This component of his package may help to explain Joseph's reluctance to use pure economic order quantity principles or lean inventory principles, trading off inventory carrying cost vs. service level. Instead, he simply minimized the chance of a stock-out – something very familiar to parts suppliers today.

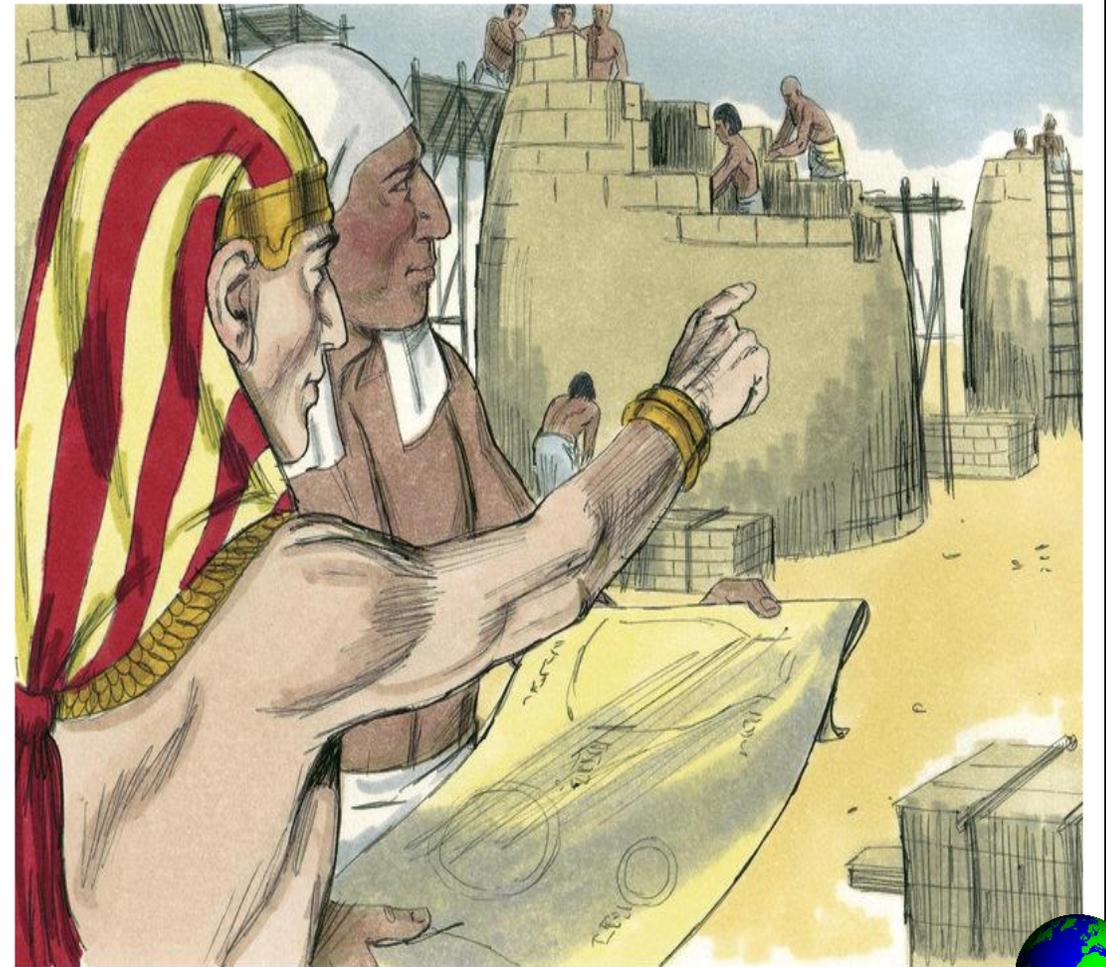

Grain storage system set up by Joseph

After building his decentralized warehousing system, “Joseph gathered corn as the sand of the sea, very much, until he left numbering; for [it was] without number” (Genesis 41:49).

Egypt did not suffer the famine at all, because of Joseph

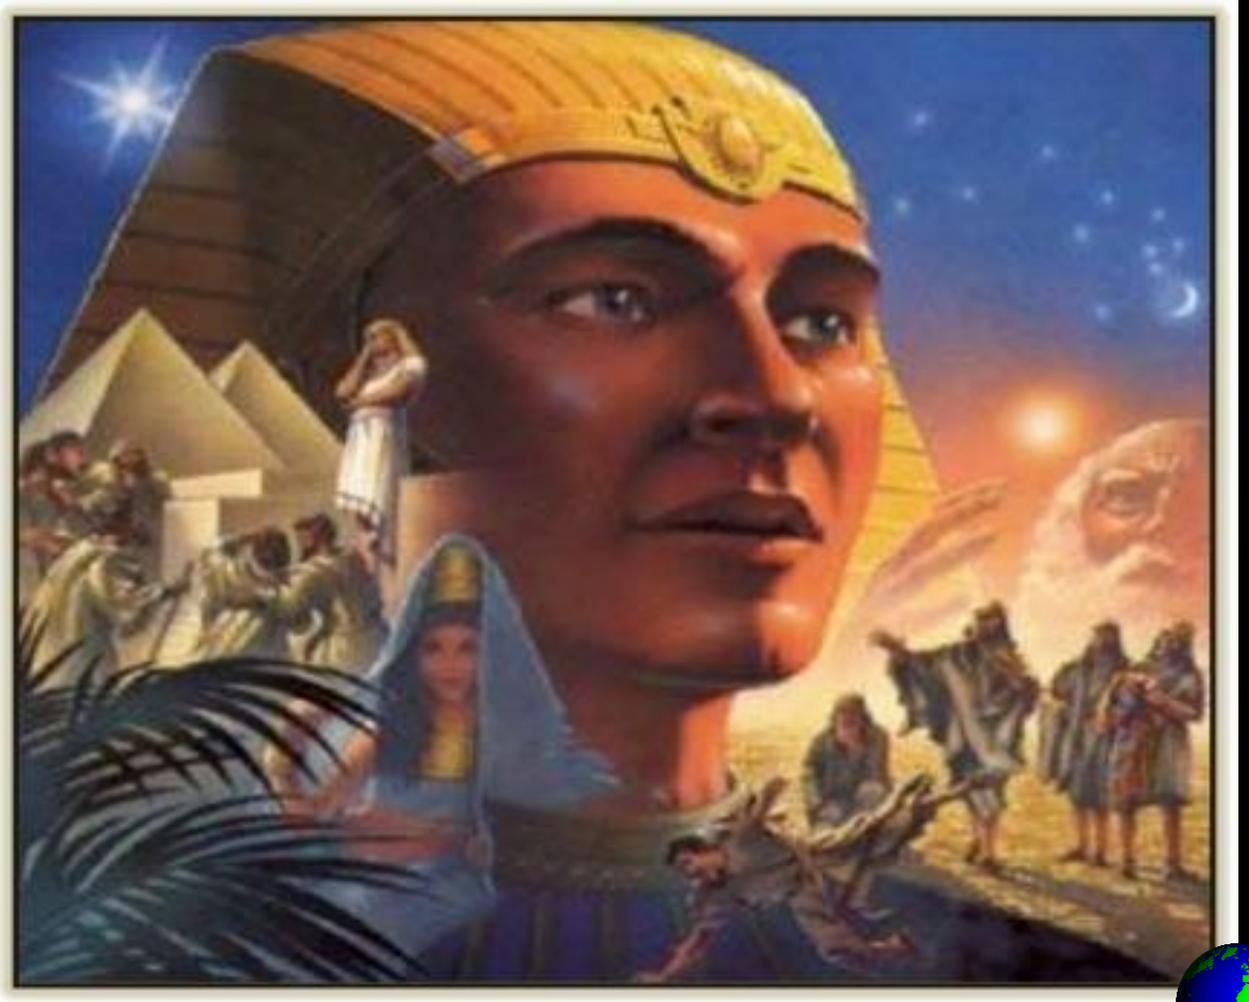

The scheme worked very well and during the famine years Egyptians did not suffer but prospered. “And the famine was over all the face of the earth: And Joseph opened all the storehouses, and sold unto the Egyptians; and the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt.” International sales territories were set and global supply chains were even established with foreign countries. “And all countries came into Egypt to Joseph for to buy [corn]; because that the famine was [so] sore in all lands” (Genesis 41:56-57).

Pharaoh becomes richer and richer

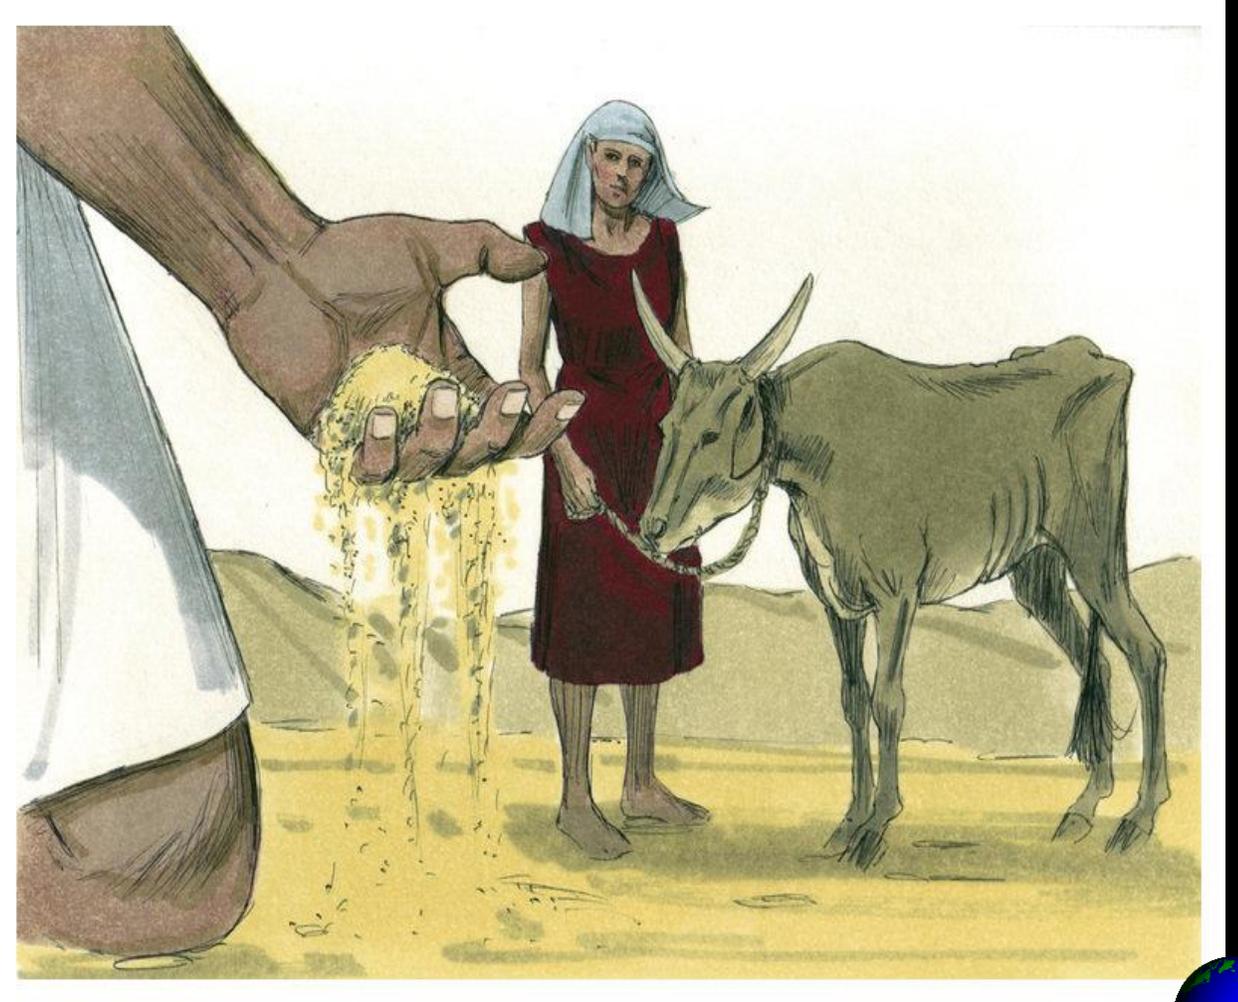

Joseph used his market position as a sole supplier to perform several acquisitions that solidified the competitive position of Pharaoh's Egypt.

“And Joseph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corn which they bought: and Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house.”

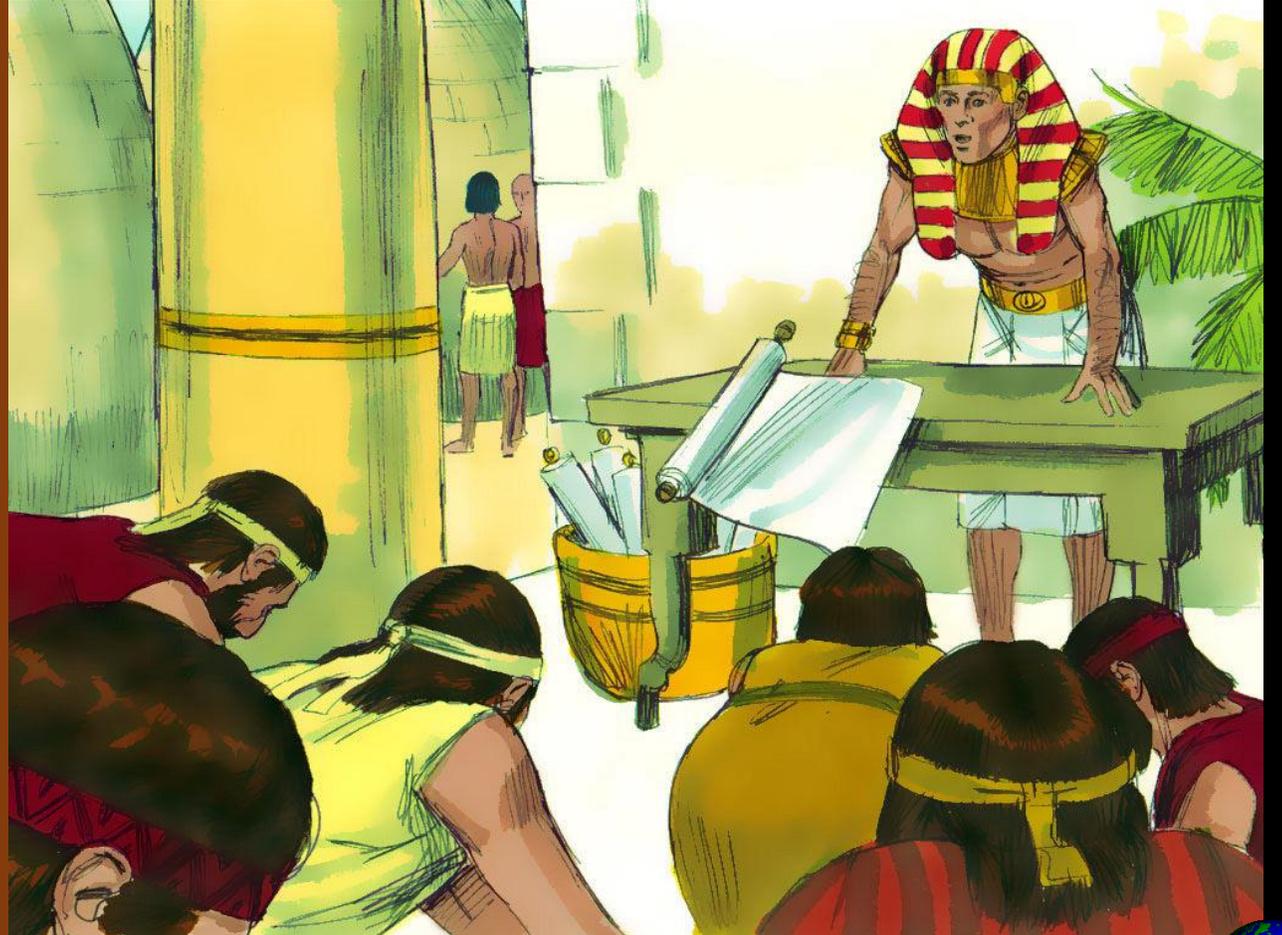

Aggression used in taking over the cattle of citizens

The next phase of Joseph's strategic vision involved an aggressive asset purchase followed by a forceful acquisition strategy. "And when money failed in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, all the Egyptians came unto Joseph, and said, Give us bread: ...And Joseph said, Give your cattle" (Genesis 47:15-16).

Land or properties taken over in exchange for food

After the population ran out of cattle and livestock, “Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh; for the Egyptians sold every man his field, because the famine prevailed over them: so the land became Pharaoh's” (Genesis 47:20).

Pharaoh sole owner of all land of nation and food

At the end of that business cycle, Pharaoh ended up as the sole owner of all productive resources in Egypt and beyond, a position Joseph used to establish a new business model, structuring a lease deal for the cultivation of the land. “Then Joseph said unto the people, Behold, I have bought you this day and your land for Pharaoh: lo, [here is] seed for you, and ye shall sow the land” (Genesis 47:23).

Exorbitant taxing system is enforced

Furthermore, Joseph instituted a subscription system. “And Joseph made it a law over the land of Egypt unto this day, [that] Pharaoh should have the fifth [part].”

The "purchase" by Joseph of the land and the very bodies of the Egyptians for an annual tax of 20% -- one fifth of all income -- institutes fundamental principles of the modern state today.

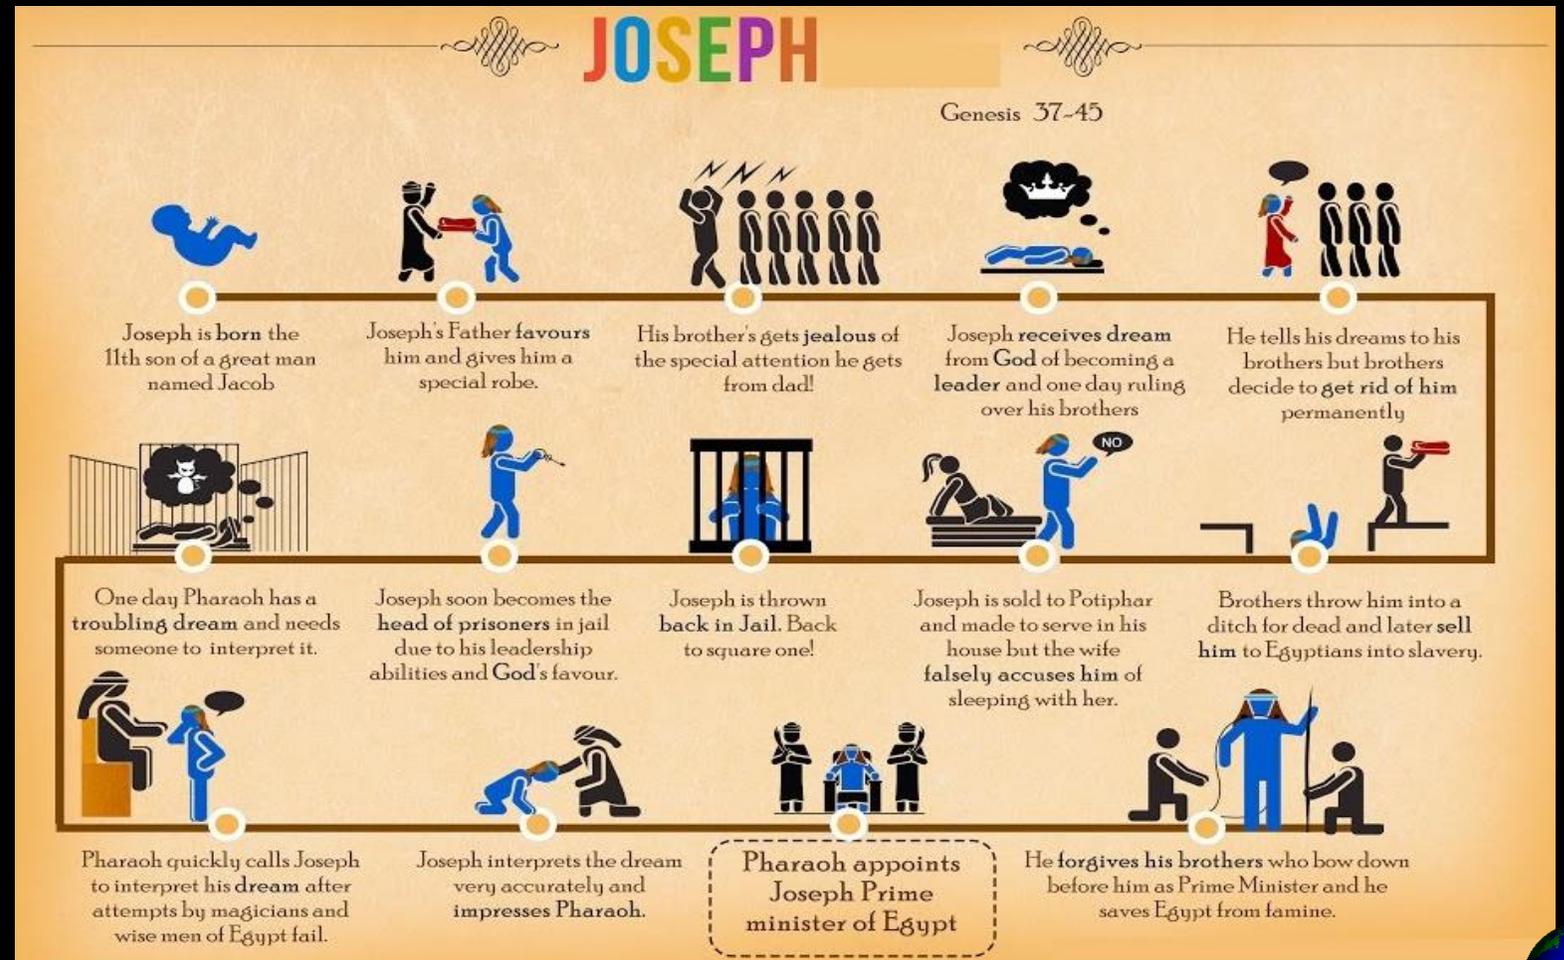

Joseph given state funeral as a Pharaoh

After a long and productive career as Pharaoh's COO, Joseph was entitled to a state funeral when he passed away: “So Joseph died, [being] an hundred and ten years old: and they embalmed him, and he was put in a coffin in Egypt” (Genesis 50:26).

What Joseph did in Egypt is what is happening today

The story of Joseph demonstrates several key principles that are as true today as they were during Joseph's time in Egypt (somewhere between 1500 and 2000 BC).

The Great Depression: 1930's – Recent PAST

28 June 1919 Signing of Peace: Hall of Mirrors, Paris

Looking around at the magnitude of death and destruction that resulted from the World War I, leaders of the some of the world's major powers convened a conference in Paris, the outcome of which they hoped would ensure that no such devastation would ever happen again. Unfortunately, the combination of a poorly designed peace treaty and the most severe economic crisis the modern world had ever experienced brought about a deterioration of international relations that would culminate in a war even more calamitous than the one that preceded it.

The Great Depression of the 1930's

Great Depression, worldwide economic downturn that began in 1929 and lasted until about 1939. It was the longest and most severe depression ever experienced by the industrialized Western world, sparking fundamental changes in economic institutions, macroeconomic policy, and economic theory. Although it originated in the United States, the Great Depression caused drastic declines in output, severe unemployment, and acute deflation in almost every country of the world. Its social and cultural effects were no less staggering, especially in the United States, where the Great Depression represented the harshest adversity faced by Americans since the Civil War.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1935 May The NIRA was declared unconstitutional when the U.S. Supreme Court issued its unanimous decision in the case Schechter Poultry Corp. ... United States. The Court ruled that the NIRA assigned law making powers to the NRA in violation of the Constitution's allocation of such powers to Congress.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1929 October -- The stock market crashes, marking the end of six years of unparalleled prosperity for most sectors of the American economy. The "crash" began on October 24 (Black Thursday). By October 29, stock prices had plummeted and banks were calling in loans. An estimated $30 billion in stock values "disappeared" by mid-November.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1930 March -- More than 3.2 million people are unemployed, up from 1.5 million before the "crash" of October, 1929. President Hoover remained optimistic however stating that "all the evidences indicate that the worst effects of the crash upon unemployment will have passed during the next sixty days."

1930 November -- The street corners of New York City are crowded with apple-sellers. Nearly six thousand unemployed individuals worked at selling apples for five cents apiece.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1931 February -- "Food riots" begin to break out in parts of the U.S. In Minneapolis, several hundred men and women smashed the windows of a grocery market and made off with fruit, canned goods, bacon, and ham. One of the store's owners pulled out a gun to stop the looters, but was leapt upon and had his arm broken. The "riot" was brought under control by 100 policemen. Seven people were arrested.

Resentment of "foreign" workers increases along with unemployment rolls. In Los Angeles, California, Mexican Americans found themselves being accused of stealing jobs from "real" Americans. During the month, 6,024 of them were deported.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1932 January -- Congress establishes the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The R.F.C. was allowed to lend $2 billion to banks, insurance companies, building and loan associations, agricultural credit organizations and railroads. Critics of the R.F.C. called it "the millionaires' dole."

1932 April -- More than 750,000 New Yorkers are reported to be dependent upon city relief, with an additional 160,000 on a waiting list. Expenditures averaged about $8.20 per month for each person on relief.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1933 April The Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) is established. Designed as a relief and employment program for young men between the ages of 17 and 27, the CCC was envisioned by FDR as a kind of volunteer "army" that would work in national forests, parks, and federal land for nine-month stints. The first 250,000 young men were housed in 1,468 camps around the country. At its peak in 1935, the CCC would include 500,000 young men.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1934 May -- A three-day dust storm blows an estimated 350 million tons of soil off of the terrain of the West and Southwest and deposits it as far east as New York and Boston. Some East Coast cities were forced to ignite street lamps during the day to see through the blowing dust.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1935 April -- FDR signs legislation creating the Works Progress Administration. (Its name would be changed in 1939 to the Work Projects Administration). The program employed more than 8.5 million individuals in three thousand counties across the nation. These individuals, drawing a salary of only $41.57 a month, improved or created highways, roads, bridges, and airports. In addition, the WPA put thousands of artists -- writers, painters, theater directors, and sculptors -- to work on various projects. The WPA would remain in existence until 1943.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1936 March -- Photographer Dorothea Lange visits a pea-pickers' camp in California's San Joaquin Valley and takes photographs of harvest workers. The images, especially those in the "Migrant Mother Series," vividly illustrated the plight of the workers. The San Francisco News ran the photo essay under the headline, "Ragged, Hungry, Broke, Harvest Workers Live in Squallor (sic)."

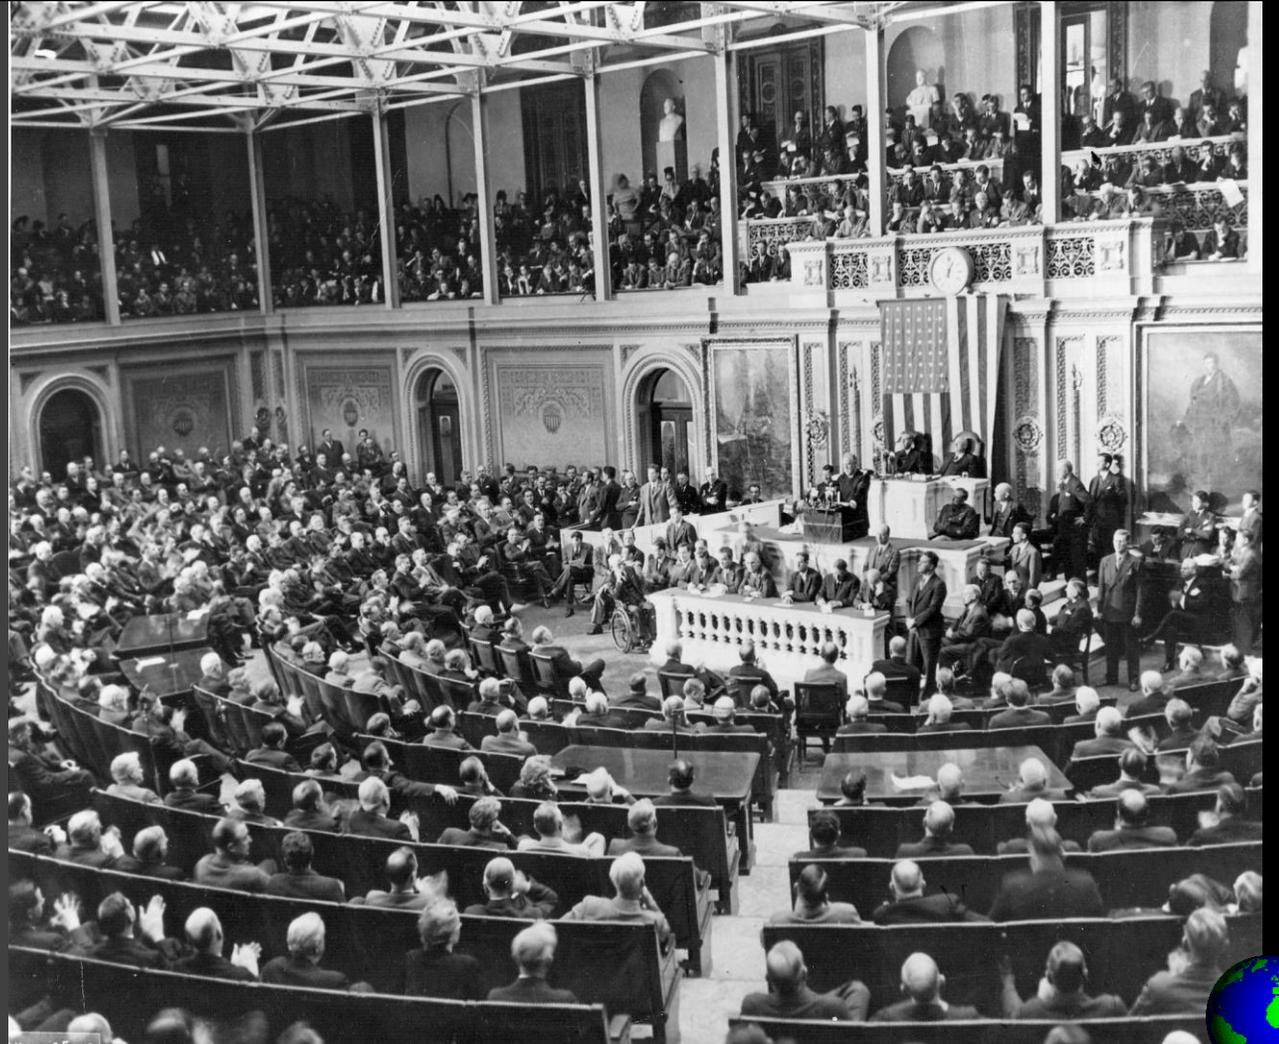

Timeline of the Great Depression

1937 August -- The slow economic recovery made possible by New Deal programs suffers a setback as unemployment rises. FDR's detractors called it the start of the "Roosevelt recession."

Timeline of the Great Depression

1938 April -- FDR asks Congress to authorize 3.75 billion in federal spending to stimulate the sagging economy. Economic indicators responded favourably over the next few months. Still, unemployment remained high and was predicted to stay that way for some time.

Timeline of the Great Depression

1940 November -- Franklin Roosevelt is elected to an unprecedented third term as president, defeating Wendell Willkie. FDR's victory is seen as proof of the nation's support of his war policies. Roosevelt was lobbying Congress to pass the Lend-Lease Act, which would aid Britain in its struggle to fend off Germany. In little over a year, following Japan's 7th December 1941 bombing of Pearl Harbor, the U.S. would enter the war in the Pacific and in Europe. The war effort jump-started!

The Great Depression and World War II

Economic instability led to political instability in many parts of the world. Political chaos, in turn, gave rise to dictatorial regimes such as Adolf Hitler's in Germany and the military's in Japan. ... These regimes pushed the world ever-closer to war.

The Great Depression and World War II

The imperialist conquests like Japan's invasion of Manchuria in the early 1930s, Italy's invasion of Ethiopia in 1935 and Germany's annexation of most of Austria and parts of Czechoslovakia in 1938, were all manifestations of the need to expand territories. But these conquests would soon draw the ire of two of Europe's major powers, and following Germany's invasion of Poland, both Britain and France would declare war on Germany on September 3rd, 1939, thus commencing the Second World War.

World War II and its Subsequent Laws

This policy of cruel treatment and deliberate, systematic genocide across German-occupied Europe shocked the world. After the Nazis were defeated by the Allied Forces in WWII, the world united to agree on minimum standards of dignity to be afforded to all human beings. These minimum standards became known as human rights. They were recorded in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and made enforceable in Europe under the Human Rights Convention. The Convention articles prohibiting torture, slavery and forced labour clearly sought to confine such barbaric treatment to history.

The Great Reset

There is an urgent need for global stakeholders to cooperate in simultaneously managing the direct consequences of the COVID-19 crisis. To improve the state of the world, the World Economic Forum is starting The Great Reset initiative.

The World Economic Forum's Great Reset initiative seeks new ideas in order to use this unique moment in history provided by the disruption to economics, politics and our everyday life to catalyse a new approach to how our societies are run.

Here are four important building blocks needed to make this happen: Mind-set, Metrics, Incentives and Connection.

- 1. Change our mind-set — if we made it up once, we can make it up again.
- 2. Create new metrics — measuring what matters will change everything.
- 3. Design new business incentives — you get what you pay for.
- 4. Build genuine connection — distance is the danger.

Paris Agreement Climate Action - European Commission

On 12 December 2015, the participating 196 countries agreed, by consensus, to the final global pact, the Paris Agreement, to reduce emissions as part of the method for reducing greenhouse gas.

The Paris Agreement's central aim is to strengthen the global response to the threat of climate change by keeping a global temperature rise this century well below 2 degrees Celsius above pre-industrial levels and to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase even further to 1.5 degrees Celsius.

What God does, Satan has to comply by same rules

“For the sake of the common good, we must do whatever it takes to reverse the climate change emergency. Thus, we call on all governments worldwide to ban the use of red meat. Also, we want to see less private cars on the road, and the use of public transportation should be encouraged. Needless to say, all fossil-fuel companies should immediately stop drilling. In addition, we must re-create a new economic system that is environmental friendly. More importantly, we need a universal weekly day of rest that is protected by law for all nations, to give our planet and bodies a rest. And we have seven years to do all that or mankind will be extinct.”

“For the sake of the common good, we must do whatever it takes to reverse the climate change emergency. Thus, we call on all governments worldwide to ban the use of red meat. Also, we want to see less private cars on the road, and the use of public transportation should be encouraged. Needless to say, all fossil-fuel companies should immediately stop drilling. In addition, we must re-create a new economic system that is environmental friendly. More importantly, we need a universal weekly day of rest that is protected by law for all nations, to give our planet and bodies a rest. And we have seven years to do all that or mankind will be extinct.”

What God does, Satan has to comply by same rules

“Because of the climate change emergency, we will see more floods, deadly fires, hurricanes, diseases, and earthquakes in places where we least expect. The World Action on Climate and Health Organization (WACHO.ORG) has an order called Zero Carbon Sunday (ZECASU.ORG). The order calls on humanity to change our lifestyle, consumption and production. Hence, the solution to the climate crisis is to declare a universal weekly day of rest, and to do so by an international legislation. After COVID-19, we realised that we are all in the same boat and connected to each other. Now, the world is on brink. The time has come and we need a great reset - a new order. Mitigating global warming requires that we lower our carbon footprint. We can do that by having a fossil free day. This common weekly day of rest will make society rest in a fast pace world and cause a 15% reduction on carbon emissions, at less cost but more time for family and friends. Consequently, our planet and our bodies will get a much-needed rest which will make ourselves healthier and happier for the common good.”

COVID Is Ushering in a Surveillance State That May Never Be Dismantled

Is the “new normal” to be a surveillance society, with tracing apps and facial recognition health passports? Philip Johnston writes in The Telegraph that the British government insists not; but if we are hit by a second wave of COVID-19, the temptation to extend the monitoring will be hard to resist.

The Climate Sunday movement gaining ground

"Climate Sunday launches across Britain and Ireland! - Marking the start of the annual season of Creationtide, the Climate Sunday initiative begins this weekend with local churches across Britain and Ireland holding climate-focused services to explore the theological and scientific basis of creation care and of action on climate, to pray and to commit to action. With the climate crisis accelerating and greater public support for a green recovery post COVID-19, there has never been a more crucial time for UK churches to come together to pray and act on the climate crisis. Over 700 churches registered before the year-long initiative has begun, so the organisers are hoping that there will be thousands of local Climate Sundays, with congregations from every denomination and tradition ... We will also present the UK government with the combined commitments and calls, which all local churches have made, to show our political leaders that they have our support for acting boldly."

<https://www.indcatholicnews.com/news>

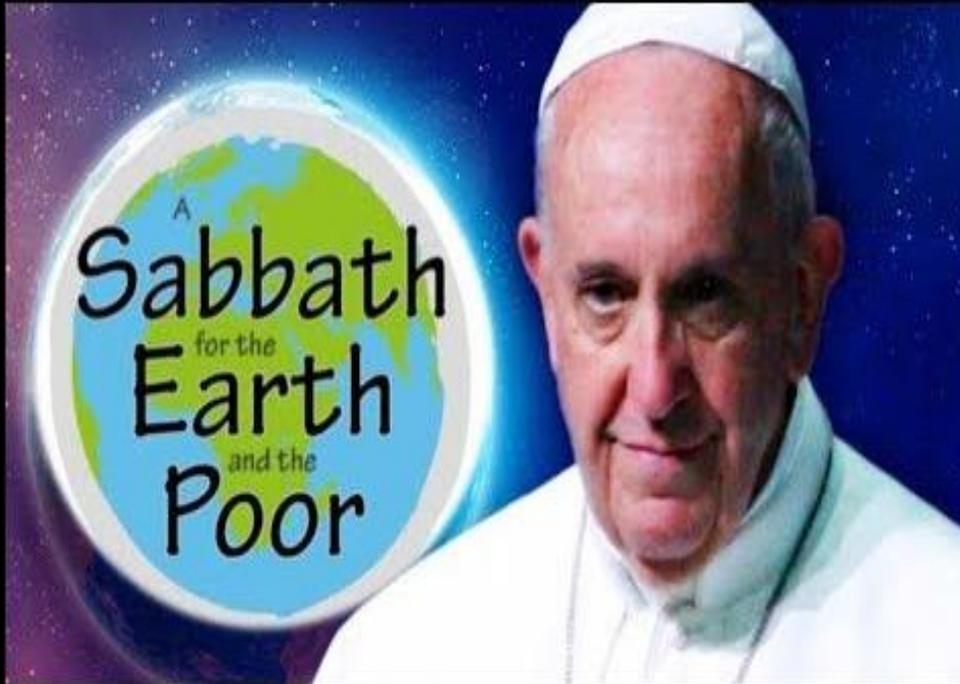

"Sunday is founded, not of scripture, but on tradition, and is distinctly a Catholic institution. As there is no scripture for the transfer of the day of rest from the last to the first day of the week, Protestants ought to keep their Sabbath on Saturday and thus leave Catholics in full possession of Sunday."

Coronavirus is Catalyst for rapid movements

COVID-19 Corona Virus has been the catalyst for some very rapid movements and changes in our world. But, in all this, one idea, one solution seems to be rising through the mirth and noise of the media bombardment of Corona Virus. Like cream poured on a latté, the idea of a Sunday rest is making its way to the top.

And for those in our world that have no idea what that would mean, it makes sense. Why wouldn't it? China and Italy have observed that because of the lockdown pollution over their respective cities has cleared up. The ozone layer, we have been told is repairing itself. India's air is clean again because of the drastic lock down measures imposed by President Modi.

Coronavirus is Catalyst for rapid movements

More and more people are beginning to see and believe that an enforced rest may be beneficial to not only the people but to the world. Climate Change activists have metaphorically said “what took you so long.” But it would seem now that both the climate change clan and the COVID-19 response teams are on the same page.

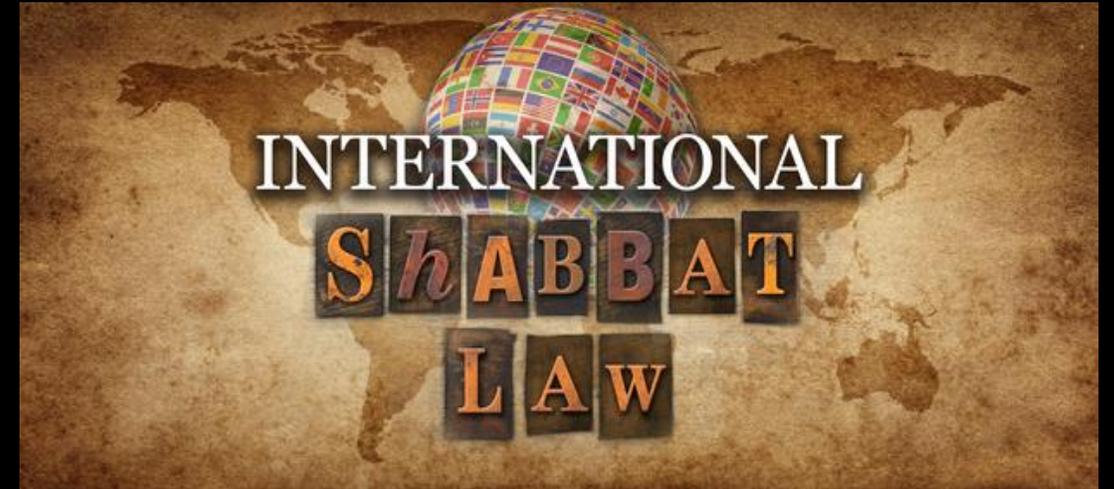

Agreed, the world and the people need to rest. This has been clearly demonstrated and stated by God initially in Genesis 2:1-3 and Exodus 20:8-11. The day that The Creator of the world has chosen is the Seventh day Sabbath, but the created being says they know better. A day other than the Seventh-day Sabbath is gaining momentum and being agitated.

Coronavirus is Catalyst for rapid movements

“At least one societal change resulting from the quarantine could do wonders to reinvigorate our national sense of family, faith, and community. Let’s give serious thought to reinstating at least some of the time-honored Sunday closure laws, sort of a one-day-per-week modified stay-at-home request. Such action would rededicate our society to a regular day of rest, family meals, civic associations, and religious observance.”

“By rededicating each Sunday as “a common day of rest,” we would say that the life is much more than never-pausing commerce and ever-grinding bureaucracy...Of course, there will be plenty of entrenched opposition to a renewed Sunday for rest, reflection, family, faith, and community...”

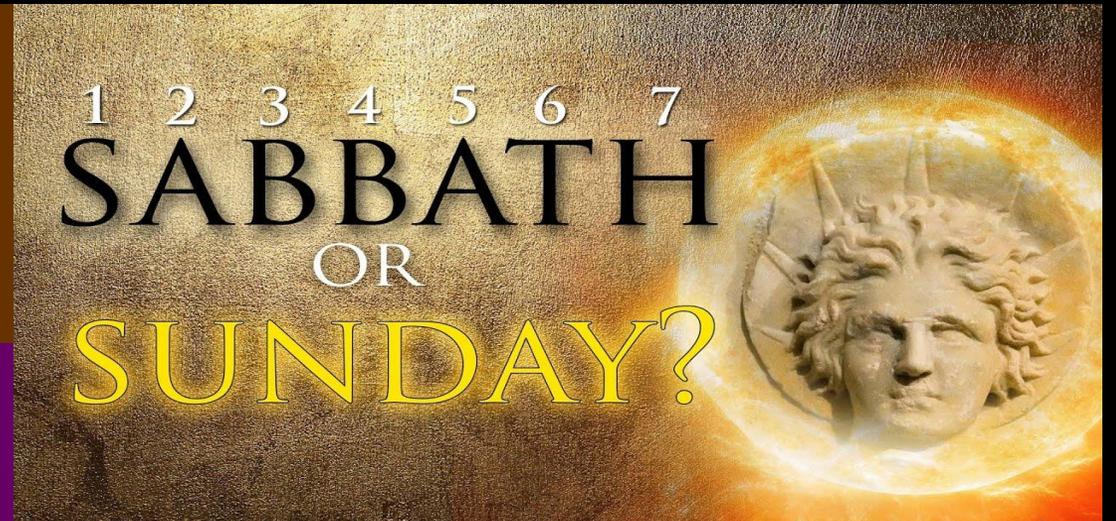

Coronavirus is Catalyst for rapid movements

“So as you noticed new terminology emerging about the need—and feasibility—of a new way of being and doing in the world going forward. Phrases like “planned economic slowdowns” and “intentional degrowth” are coming to the fore.

For those in the Judeo-Christian tradition, know the Bible was way ahead of the game with this concept of “planned economic slowdown.” It’s called SABBATH.

As much as we must advocate a rest day, we cannot join with the loud voices in promoting one when that said rest day is the first day of the week. And it’s this mandatory separation that will propel us from Matthew 24:7 to Matthew 24:9-10.

The pen of inspiration of the Last days

“We are now living in the great day of atonement. In the typical service, while the high priest was making the atonement for Israel, all were required to afflict their souls by repentance of sin and humiliation before the Lord, lest they be cut off from among the people. In like manner, all who would have their names retained in the book of life should now, in the few remaining days of their probation, afflict their souls before God by sorrow for sin and true repentance. There must be deep, faithful searching of heart. The light, frivolous spirit indulged by so many professed Christians must be put away. There is earnest warfare before all who would subdue the evil tendencies that strive for the mastery. The work of preparation is an individual work.” GC 489

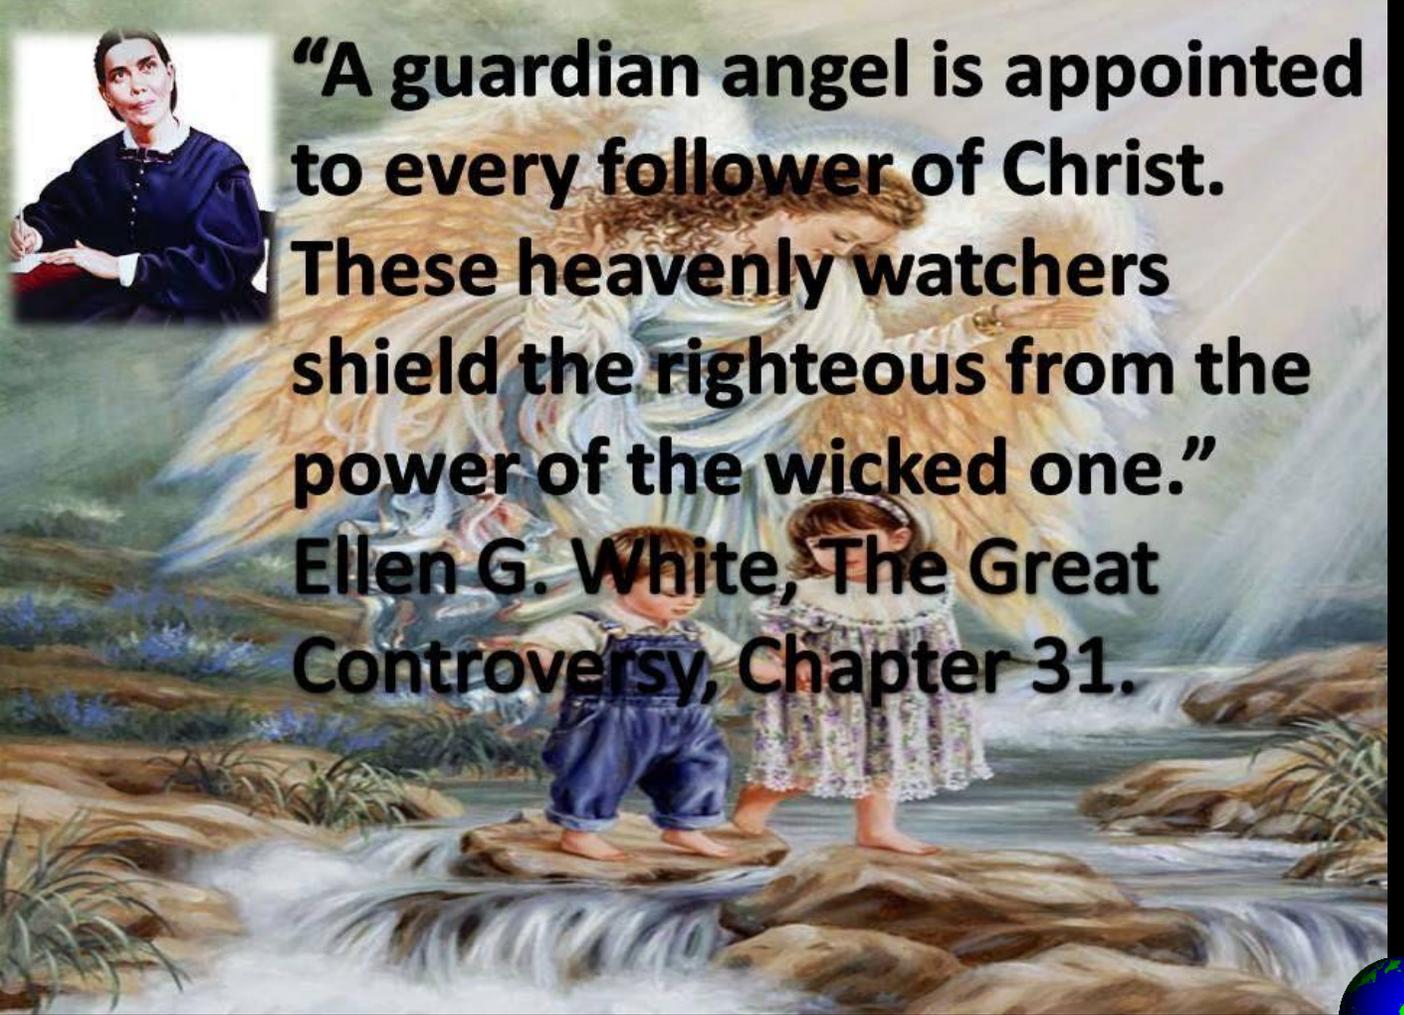

The pen of inspiration of the Last days

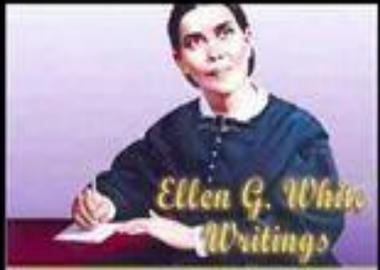

"Under various disguises the Jesuits worked their way into offices of State, climbing up to be the counselors of kings, and shaping the policy of nations. They became servants, to act as spies upon their masters... and wherever they went, there followed a REVIVAL OF POPERY" {GC 234}

"A guardian angel is appointed to every follower of Christ. These heavenly watchers shield the righteous from the power of the wicked one."
Ellen G. White, The Great Controversy, Chapter 31.

The pen of inspiration of the Last days

The Great Controversy, Chp 38

But not one is made to suffer the wrath of God until the truth has been brought home to his mind and conscience,
And has been rejected

None but those who have fortified the mind with the truths of the Bible will

the last great conflict.

Sunday-Law Advocates Do Not Realize What They Are Doing

The Sunday movement is now making its way in darkness. The leaders are concealing the true issue, and many who unite in the movement do not themselves see whither the undercurrent is tending.... They are working in blindness. They do not see that if a Protestant government sacrifices the principles that have made them a free, independent nation, and through legislation brings into the Constitution principles that will propagate papal falsehood and papal delusion, they are plunging into the Roman horrors of the Dark Ages.—The Review and Herald Extra, December 11, 1888. Last Day Events 125.3

GET READY! GET READY! GET READY!

- In a view given June 27, 1850, my accompanying angel said, "Time is almost finished. Do you reflect the lovely image of Jesus as you should?" Then I was pointed to the earth and saw that there would have to be a getting ready among those who have of late embraced the third angel's message. Said the angel, "Get ready, get ready, get ready. Ye will have to die a greater death to the world than ye have ever yet died." I saw that there was a great work to do for them and but little time in which to do it. {EW 64.1}

Blind watchmen leading the rest to destruction

10 His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.

11 Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.

12 Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant. – Isaiah 56

8. Train For Godliness. – 1 Timothy 4:8
9. Be His Witnesses. - Isaiah 43:10-11
10. Prepare to Meet Jesus. – Revelation 1:7

Conclusion of the Whole Matter

- Revelation 22:11 - He which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.
- Revelation 22:14 - Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter into the city.
